INTERNET ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

The Arts Based School provides anonymous use of the Internet. Students do not need to have a personal electronic mail account to use the Internet for educational purposes while attending school, but must abide by the following guidelines.

By providing Internet connections to teachers and students, ABS hopes to offer a variety of educational resources. While many opportunities offered by the Internet are exciting and appropriate, others are unsuitable for school use. ABS offers these guidelines so that users may have a responsible, rewarding experience.

1. Remember that use of the school's internet system is a privilege, not a right; abuse of this privilege by engaging in unethical or irresponsible activities will result in its loss.
2. Use the Internet only for assigned projects and activities related to school.
3. Do not engage in any form of electronic correspondence unless specifically directed to do so by your teacher. When doing so, respect other users and communicate with them through computers as you would face-to-face. Use respectful language in all written dialog.
4. Respect copyright laws and avoid plagiarism in using information and ideas from sources on the Internet.
5. Do not alter the software content of the computer. This includes deleting files, downloading programs, and copying commercial programs. Do not tamper with security software.
6. Take care of the computer equipment. Vandalism will result in loss of usage privileges.
7. Any user identified as having abused these policies will be denied access to the Internet.

I have read and understand ABS "Acceptable Use Policy". I understand and will abide by these guidelines. I further understand that violation of these guidelines may result in the loss of access privileges and that school discipline and/or legal action may be taken.
