

Science Teacher – The Arts Based School, Winston-Salem

The Arts Based School (“ABS”) in Winston-Salem is seeking a licensed middle school science teacher to instruct 7th and 8th grade science. Applications are invited to apply now, for the upcoming school year.

Our ideal candidate will be a passionate teacher and collaborator who is skilled at encouraging self-esteem and love of learning. This team player will be both professional and creative. Interested teachers may reply to Principal Robin Hollis at rhollis@artsbasedschool.com

ABS is a popular and successful public charter school beginning its 17th year of operations. The school offers competitive salaries, State Employee health insurance and retirement to full-time teachers.

Scroll down for several articles about ABS.

Winston-Salem Monthly. Date, April 29, 2016 Creative Class

Winston-Salem Journal. January 30, 2016: Arts Based School Teacher Wins Arts Council Award

Winston-Salem Journal. March 13, 2014: Not Your Mother’s ‘Romeo & Juliet’

Winston-Salem Journal. May 29, 2014: Curriculum is inspired by Garden at Arts Based School

Winston-Salem Journal. August 18, 2013: Creativity in Action at the Arts Based School

Winston-Salem Journal. Sept. 19, 2013: Arts Based School Unveils New Building

WFDD Radio Piece. Sept. 19, 2013: Arts Based School in Winston-Salem Celebrates Expansion

Winston-Salem Journal. May 2, 2013: Arts Based School Students Get Red Carpet Treatment

WFDD Radio. February 26, 2013. Arts Based School presents Romeo & Juliet on the Border

www.artsbasedschool.com

